

Project Name:	HALE LANE SYNAGOGUE
New Build/refurb:	New build /Refurbishment
Form of contract:	JCT Standard Form 2005
Contract start date:	27 th October 2008
Completion date:	12 th June 2009
Contract value:	£861,598
Client:	Edgware Adass Yisroel Congregation
Lead Consultant:	Counter and King Architects

Project Description: Conversion, restoration and extension

Construction details:

T &B was delighted to be awarded the contract to undertake construction works at Hale Lane for the Edgware Adass Yisroel Congregation.

The former URC Church is being converted in to a new school / synagogue for the Edgware Jewish Community.

- Works underway include:
- New single story link corridor
- Upgrade kitchens, toilets and residential accommodation
- Remodelling external works
- New M&E services

Members of the community were invited along to the site to sign the blocks which will be used to build their new Aron (small room which houses their sacred scrolls).

Attending the ceremony was Rabbi Lieberman with over 200 people all eager to sign the blocks. The site team is being led by Gary Mills with Marc Jeffries as contracts manager and Dave Fogarty as the QS.

